Investment in the fund shall be subject to a thirty (30) calendar day minimum holding period from the date of participation.
- B. Risk profile of participants suitable to invest in the Fund: Aggressive. Such client wants a portfolio which may provide appreciation of capital over time and client is willing to accept higher risks involving volatility of returns and even possible loss of investment in return for potential higher long-term results. However, it must be noted that the effect of participation in the Fund on an investor's total portfolio risk will vary greatly, depending on the percentage of the portfolio invested in the Fund, the nature and riskiness of the other components of the portfolio and the correlation of these other components to US stocks. It is therefore not uncommon for investors who would not characterize themselves as Aggressive or have a high risk tolerance questionnaire score to invest a measured portion of their portfolio in the Fund whilst maintaining an overall conservative or moderate portfolio.

5. Switching of the Target Fund

The Trustee shall follow the following procedures and guidelines in the event of switching of target fund/s:

1. Management shall approve to terminate the agreement with the existing Target Fund.
2. Trustee shall give written notice to the Target Fund of its intent to terminate feeder fund agreement. Termination of agreement with the Target Fund shall be within ninety (90) calendar days prior written notice.
3. Prior to termination of agreement with Target Fund, the Trustee shall send written notice to clients regarding any material changes in the Fund. Notice to clients shall be through a formal letter and may be supplemented by any of the following:
 - a. E-mail notification;
 - b. Notification in sales premises; and
 - c. Announcement in website
4. The grounds of switching of target fund shall be fully disclosed, including but not limited to the following reasons:
 - a. Performance vis-à-vis expectations;
 - b. Change in target fund's investment objective or risk profile;

- c. Resignation of fund managers;
 - d. Closure of target funds or its maximum AUM capacity has been reached;
 - e. Prolonged suspension of subscription/redemption to/from the target fund; or
 - f. Market conditions which in the reasonable opinion of the trustee warrant a change in the target fund.
5. No change shall be implemented within thirty (30) calendar days from the initial notification to the Participants. However, the Trustee may decide to switch to another target fund earlier than the thirty (30) calendar day notification period if the new target fund has a similar investment objective with the Fund and, in the reasonable opinion of the Trustee, market conditions warrant a faster change to the new target fund. Switching of the target fund with another target fund with a similar investment objective shall not be considered as an amendment.

 2. A change in the objective or investment style of the Target Fund;
 3. A change in the Target Fund's fees that will significantly affect the total expense ratio of the Fund;

In the event of a material change in the Target Fund's structure, the Trustee has the discretion to switch target funds. Should the Trustee decide to retain the Target Fund despite such material change, such change must be properly disclosed to the Participants via the means enumerated in the preceding Section V.3. In the case of a change in the investment objective of the fund, investors shall be given a 30-day notification period to allow them to divest from the funds should they wish to.

7. Risk Factors

The value of the investment is based on the Net Asset Value per unit (NAVpU) of the Fund which uses a marked-to-market valuation and therefore may fluctuate daily. Investment in a UITF does not provide guaranteed returns. Principal and earnings from investment in the Fund can be lost in whole or in part when the NAVpU at the time of redemption is lower than the NAVpU at the time of participation.

The Fund which shall be substantively invested in a diversified portfolio of listed US shares of stock is exposed to the following risks:

- Business Risk. Stockholders as fractional owners of corporations share in the fortunes of the business. The rise and fall of stock prices often reflect the market's perception of the prospects of corporations and their management to reward stockholders for taking risks unique to each business. Business risk can be reduced through diversification.
- Country/Political Risk. Securities can be affected by the political, economic and social structures within the countries of their issuers, such as internal and external conflicts, currency devaluations, foreign ownership limitations, trading costs and tax increases.
- Market Risk. Market risk is the risk that the value of the fund investment will be negatively affected by the fluctuations in the price level of its underlying instruments.
- Inflation Risk. Affecting all investments, inflation reduces the purchasing power of money.
- Liquidity Risk. Liquidity is a measure of how easy it is for a security to be converted into cash. A liquid security is widely held and is frequently traded by many buyers and sellers every day. This is minimized by investing in marketable securities.
- Interest Rate Risk. The value of fixed-income investments such as notes and bonds generally fall when interest rates rise. The potential for loss is typically greater for securities that have a longer term to maturity, have a longer duration or have a lower yield or coupon rate.
- Reinvestment Rate Risk. This is the risk of reinvesting interest earnings at a rate lower than the original investment.
- Credit Risk. Bonds represent a loan made to the issuer of the bond. The credit worthiness of the bond issuer is the issuer's ability to pay interest and principal on time, which can change during the life of the bond. Issuers with a higher risk of defaulting pay the highest yields.

Risks specific to Feeder Funds:

- Asset Class Risk. Securities and other assets in the Underlying Index or in the Fund's portfolio may underperform in comparison to the general financial markets, a particular financial market or other asset classes.
- Concentration Risk. The Fund may be susceptible to an increased risk of loss, including losses due to adverse event that affect the Fund's investments more than the market as a whole, to the extent that the Fund's investments are concentrated in the securities of a particular issuer or issuers, country, group of countries, region, market, industry, group of industries, sector or asset class.

- Cyber Security Risk. Failures or breaches of the electronic systems of the Fund, the Fund's adviser, distributor, the Index Provider and other service providers, market makers, Authorized Participants or the issuers of securities in which the Fund invests have the ability to cause disruptions, negatively impact the Fund's business operations and/or potentially result in financial losses to the Fund and its shareholders. While the Fund has established business continuity plans and risk management systems seeking to address system breaches or failures, there are inherent limitations in such plans and systems. Furthermore, the Fund cannot control the cyber security plans and systems of the Fund's Index Provider and other service providers, market makers, Authorized Participants or issuers of securities in which the Fund invests.
- Index-Related Risk. There is no guarantee that the Fund's investment results will have a high degree of correlation to those of the Underlying Index or that the Fund will achieve its investment objective. Market disruptions and regulatory restrictions could have an adverse effect on the Fund's ability to adjust its exposure to the required levels in order to track the Underlying Index. Errors in index data, index computations or the construction of the Underlying Index in accordance with its methodology may occur from time to time and may not be identified and corrected by the Index Provider for a period of time or at all, which may have an adverse impact on the Fund and its shareholders.
- Information Technology Sector Risk. Information technology companies face intense competition and potentially rapid product obsolescence. They are also heavily dependent on intellectual property rights and may be adversely affected by the loss or impairment of those rights. Companies in the software industry may be adversely affected by, among other things, the decline or fluctuation of subscription renewal rates for their products and services and actual or perceived vulnerabilities in their products or services.
- Operational Risk. The Fund is exposed to operational risks arising from number of factors, including, but not limited to, human error, processing and communication errors, errors of the Fund's service providers, counterparties or other third-parties, failed or inadequate processes and technology or systems failures. The Fund and BFA seek to reduce these operational risks through controls and procedures.

Risks Specific to the Target Fund:

- Market Trading Risk. The Target Fund faces numerous market trading risks, including the potential lack of an active market for Target Fund shares, losses from trading in secondary markets, periods of high volatility and disruptions in the creation/redemption process. Any of these factors, among others, may lead to the Target Fund's shares trading at a premium or discount to NAV.
- Management Risk. As the Target Fund will not fully replicate the Underlying Index, it is subject to the risk that BFA's investment strategy may not produce the intended results.
- Market Risk. The Target Fund could lose money over short periods due to short-term market movements and over longer periods during more prolonged market downturns.

- Issuer Risk. The performance of the Target Fund depends on the performance of individual securities to which the Target Fund has exposure. Changes in the financial condition or credit rating of an issuer of those securities may cause the value of the securities to decline.
- Large-Capitalization Companies Risk. Large-capitalization companies may be less able than smaller capitalization companies to adapt to changing market conditions. Large-capitalization companies may be more mature and subject to more limited growth potential compared with smaller capitalization companies. During different market cycles, the performance of large capitalization companies has trailed the overall performance of the broader securities markets.
- Authorized Participant Concentration Risk. Only an Authorized Participant (as defined in the Shareholder Information section of the prospectus of the Target Fund) may engage in creation or redemption transactions directly with the Target Fund. The Target Fund has a limited number of institutions that may act as Authorized Participants on an agency basis (i.e. on behalf of other market participants). To the extent that Authorized Participants exit the business or are unable to proceed with creation or redemption orders with respect to the Target Fund and no other Authorized Participant is able to step forward to create or redeem Creation Units (as defined in the Purchase and Sale of Fund Shares section of the prospectus), Target Fund shares may be more likely to trade at a premium or discount to NAV and possibly face trading halts or delisting.
